

VOICES FOR HOSPICES AND WORLD PALLIATIVE CARE DAY 2007.

Sunday 7th October 2007, Uganda celebrated Voices for hospice and World Palliative care day at Sheraton hotel in Kampala. The event was organised by Palliative care Association of Uganda (PCAU) in conjunction with Ministry of health and its member organizations. Five choirs including; Mildmay Children's choir, The Aids Support Organisation (TASO) drama group, Hospice Africa Uganda, Kampala singers and children from Makerere University/John Hopkins University (MU/JU) entertained the guests.

Over two hundred guests attended the concert.

The guest of Honor was Commissioner Clinical services Ministry of health. He also launched PCAU's three year strategic plan.

Bellow some of the photographs taken during the event.

Mildmay Children's choir singing in the local language about AIDS.

Audience attentively listening to the choir

11 year old girl testifying how she got HIV and how palliative care is helping her to keep healthy.

Kampala Singers entertaining guests

TASO drama group dancing a traditional dance

Commissioner Clinical Services launching PCAU 3year strategic plan as the National Coordinator looks on